

Mikey's story

Mikey was born in one of the poorest neighborhoods in Port-au-Prince: La Saline, a place where mothers feed their children "mud pies" simply to put something in their bellies. As an infant, Mikey was abandoned by his mother. Eventually he was brought, wrapped in a towel and barely alive, to the pastor who runs the orphanage. The bundle was so tiny and light that the man thought it contained a loaf of bread. Today Mikey is doing well.

Who We Are

The founders of Servants for Haiti are people just like you. In 2000, we visited Haiti for the first time. It changed everything. We saw the effects of extreme poverty. There is nothing romantic or noble about it. It's ugly, degrading and it destroys people, especially children. We want to do something about it and you can help.

How You can Help

Servants for Haiti has a number of monthly sponsorship programs that you can participate in. Each supports some facet of our work:

- Child Care Worker Sponsorship
- Orphanage Medical Care
- Orphanage Food
- Schooling
- Higher Education Sponsorship
- Tutoring

One time donations targeted at any of these programs or for the general budget are always welcome. For current details on our programs, or for more information about SFH, please contact us at any of the addresses shown below.

Servants for Haiti is a non-profit organization under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. All donations are fully tax deductible.

Our Passion

Barely 700 miles from the gleaming art deco facades of Miami is a nation of suffering and want that most Americans cannot even imagine: Haiti. A nation wracked by violence, devastated environmentally and politically corrupt, its statistics are staggering:

- Average annual income: $400
- Literacy rate: 40%
- Infant mortality rate: 1 in 10

But statistics only tell part of the story. Who suffers most from Haiti's problems? Tragically, it is those who are the most innocent: children. We have seen them, and we have touched them. We have had mothers offer us their children in hope of giving them a better life. We have seen the mud pies they must eat to fend off hunger pangs. Standing by while they die is not an option.

Our Mission

Our mission is to provide an opportunity for Haiti's impoverished children to become outstanding leaders in their homes, churches, communities and nation by supplying them with the care they need to survive and thrive.

To accomplish this mission, we provide sponsorship programs for the education of children whose families cannot otherwise afford it. Sponsorships can also provide medical care and basic necessities such as food, clothing, and shelter for some of Haiti's abandoned and orphaned children.

Our Methods

Servants for Haiti provides practical assistance to an orphanage in the Cite Militaire neighborhood of Port-au-Prince, the capital city of Haiti.

"Kingdom Kids" orphanage houses about 25 abandoned children from birth through grade school. We fund regular meals and medical care for those children. In the process, we provide employment for the caregivers at the orphanage.

Servants for Haiti is also actively involved in education. We have sponsorship programs for students from kindergarten through high school. Beyond that, our scholarship program allows students to pursue higher education in Haiti.

See the reverse side of this brochure for specific information about the services we provide and the ways you can participate.
